

HOW TO APPLY APPLICATION PROCEDURE

Prospective international students interested in applying for admission to a University of Newcastle degree program can either apply directly to the University through International Admissions or through an official overseas representative (agent) of the University. Details of the University's official representatives (agents) are available at: www.newcastle.edu.au/students/international/our-programs/how-to-apply/representative/

Detailed below are the six stages in the application process.

Stage 1 Applying for a place in a program

Decide on the specific program(s) you wish to study. You can then either apply online with our UniOffer tool (go to: www.newcastle.edu.au/students/international/our-programs/how-to-apply/) or you can complete the application form included in this publication. If you choose the paper-based application, please complete all relevant sections of the application form and attach certified copies of all academic transcripts and any other items you may wish to include.

Send the completed application form directly to International Admissions at the University or to an official representative of the University in your country.

Stage 2 Your application is assessed

Once we've received your online or paper-based application, we will check that you have provided all the details and assess whether you meet the requirements for the proposed area of study, and whether there is a place available for you. We will do this as quickly as possible, but this can sometimes take a little while as the application may need to be reviewed by a number of people. You can assist by ensuring that you have answered all questions and provided all necessary information and documents to support your application.

Stage 3 Review your Letter of Offer

Successful applicants will receive from International Admissions, an offer of a place which will provide information on the tuition fees, health insurance fees, the date of commencement of the program of study, accommodation and the refund policy. If an application is unsuccessful, applicants will receive an explanatory letter. Successful applicants will receive either an Unconditional or Conditional Letter of Offer. You must meet all conditions specified on your Letter of Offer prior to receiving your Confirmation of Enrolment.

Stage 4 Payment of fees

In order to accept the offer of a place in a program, you are required to pay a deposit in advance. The payment should be in the form of an international bank draft/cheque made payable to The University of Newcastle. You may also pay by Credit Card or Electronic Funds Transfer (EFT). Please contact International Admissions if you wish to process your deposit payment in this manner.

Please write your full name on the back of the bank draft/cheque. The bank draft/cheque can either be sent directly to International Admissions at the University or may be given to an official representative (agent) of the University in your country.

Once payment has been received by the University, you will receive a Confirmation of Enrolment, which is required for completing your application for a student visa at the Australian Diplomatic Post in your country.

Stage 5 Applying for a student visa

In order to apply for a student visa at an Australian Diplomatic Post, you will need to obtain a student visa application form, either from the Australian Diplomatic Post or an official overseas representative of the University in your country.

You will need to complete all relevant sections of the student visa application form and attach and submit all relevant documentation and visa application fee. For further information visit the Department of Immigration and Citizenship's website at: www.immi.gov.au/students/index.htm

Stage 6 Travelling to Australia and arranging accommodation in Newcastle or on the Central Coast (Ourimbah)

The University strongly suggests that you seek advice about booking an air ticket as soon as you receive your offer. Orientation week is one week prior to the commencement of semester/ trimester. You should organise your travel arrangements to ensure you attend.

Decide on the type of accommodation you wish to have in Newcastle or on the Central Coast. Information regarding the many types of available accommodation together with key contact details will be provided with your offer letter.

Stage 7 Arriving in Newcastle or at the Central Coast (Ourimbah)

When you arrive in Sydney, you will need to transfer (either by air, rail or bus) to Newcastle or Ourimbah, depending on where you will be studying. Information on how to transfer from Sydney to Newcastle or Ourimbah will be provided with your offer letter.

Once you have arrived, you should go to the International Student Support team on the Callaghan campus or the International Student Support Officer on the Ourimbah campus as soon as you can. Staff will be able to assist you with opening a bank account, advice on the Orientation Program and where you should go for your enrolment session.

All international students are expected to participate in the University's Orientation Program which occurs one week before classes begin. An Orientation Program for newly arrived international students has been specifically designed and includes information on enrolment, campus facilities and associations, public transport, shopping and recreational activities, a guide to either Newcastle or Ourimbah and the Central Coast (whichever is applicable) and social functions.

UNDERGRADUATE APPLICATION GUIDE

1. Course selection

Before completing the enclosed undergraduate application form you should visit the University website at: www.newcastle.edu.au/what-can-i-study/ and decide on your program of study.

When deciding on your program of study and commencement semester consider whether you may need to undertake English language tuition or the University's International Foundation program. You can note your preferences for start dates and semesters in section 2 of the application form.

2. Admission requirements

Assessment for admission to the University is based on your academic qualifications and English proficiency. Listed below are minimum entry requirements for a range of the University's degree programs. Admission requirements vary depending on the degree program, and may be higher than the requirements listed here.

A-Levels

GCE A-levels

International Baccalaureate

Students must have been awarded the Diploma and obtain a minimum of 25 points to be considered for entry.

Malaysian Independent Chinese Secondary Schools – Unified Examination Certificate

Student may be admitted on an average of B4. This grade does not include Chinese or Malay language.

SAT

The Scholastic Aptitude Test score (the total result of the SAT 1: Verbal and SAT 1: Mathematical test scores), can be considered as a basis for admission when accompanied by a final High School Diploma and Transcript.

Singapore

Polytechnic Diploma holders (with a suitable GPA) can be considered for entry to the University and advanced standing into their desired Bachelor degree.

The admission requirements above are listed as a guide only. It is highly recommended that you submit an application to the University to have your qualifications formally assessed. You can apply online using the self-assessment tool, UniOffer at www.newcastle.edu.au/students/international/our-programs/how-to-apply/

3. English proficiency

A list of qualifications that meet the University's English proficiency requirements follow and a more comprehensive list can be found on the University website at: www.newcastle.edu.au/policy/000104.html

IELTS

International English Language Testing Score (IELTS) of 6.0 or higher with no individual subtest scores less than 6.0. All law programs require IELTS of 7.0 with no subtest score less than 6.0. The following programs require IELTS of 7.0 with no subtest less than 6.5: medical radiation science programs, nursing, nutrition and dietetics, occupational therapy, oral health, physiotherapy, podiatry.

TOEFL

American Test of English as a Foreign Language (TOEFL) paper based test – score of 525 or more (minimum score of 4 in TWE). Internet-based test (iTOEFL) requires an overall score of 80 with no subtest score below 20. The following programs require an iTOEFL of 101 with a minimum of 25 in writing: law, medical radiation science programs, nursing, nutrition and dietetics, occupational therapy, oral health, podiatry, physiotherapy.

Please Note:

Students seeking registration as a health professional in Australia upon graduation will be required to demonstrate proficiency of IELTS 7.0 (with no subtest less than 7.0). The registration authority will require evidence in the form of IELTS or OET results within two years of applying to register.

Language of Instruction Late applications may not be considered for entry until the next semester. Two years of successful tertiary study in an overseas tertiary institution, in a non-English speaking country, where the medium of instruction is English; or Successful completion of one year of full-time, or equivalent, higher education level study in an English speaking country. To be considered, this study must have been undertaken within the previous two years.

4. Completing the application form

When you have decided on your program of study, complete the enclosed application form. Ensure that your personal details are clear. The Australian Government does require us to keep your home country address on file so make sure these details are included even if you are using an education agent. If you are applying through an agent all correspondence will be sent via your agent.

5. Certified documents

All academic transcripts and certificates of completion attached to your application should be certified as true copies of the original. If your documents are not in English we will need officially translated versions as well as certified copies in the original language. If you are submitting an IELTS result as evidence of English proficiency the University must sight your original Test Report Form before enrolment.

6. Advanced standing/credit

Consideration of applicants seeking advanced standing is on a case-by-case basis. In the event that advanced standing is granted, the number of units required to complete the degree requirements will be reduced and, consequently, students will need less time to complete their preferred program. If you are seeking advanced standing in your nominated program you should include with your application the course outline, subject descriptions, methods of assessment, contact hours, duration of the program and a list of text books should be from official educational institution publications or hand-outs.

7. Letter of offer

▪ Unconditional Offer

If you have provided all relevant certified documents, and met the University's academic and English proficiency requirements, the University will send you a letter of offer without any conditions for the next available session.

▪ Conditional Offer

The University may send you a conditional offer if you have not provided certified documents or evidence of English proficiency or are yet to complete your current course of study. Once you have met the requirements stipulated under "Conditions" in your offer letter, an unconditional offer will be forwarded to you.

▪ An offer that includes International Foundation (IF)

You may receive an offer that includes International Foundation even though you did not request it. Students who do not meet the requirements for direct entry to an undergraduate degree program are offered the IF as a pathway to their chosen program of study.

▪ English Language Programs

If you do not meet the University's English Language requirements you will be offered an English language program at the University prior to commencement of your main program of study.
