Tuition fees, living costs and scholarships

Studying overseas offers a lot of exciting opportunities. It’s important you’re prepared for the costs involved in investing in your future, such as tuition fees, living costs and other expenses. That’s why we offer a wide range of scholarships to reward your achievements and support you while you study.

Study costs

Tuition fees

Tuition fees are the primary cost of studying one of our courses. They’re different for every course and are based on your study load – typically 60 credit points per semester, totalling 120 credit points per year for a full-time load.

You can find indicative annual fees in this guide. These are based on an annual study load of 120 credit points, except where we indicate they’re based on a different study load.

You can estimate a total cost for your course based on these indicative fees, but remember: fees can change year on year. If we do change the fees for a course, the change takes effect on 1 January the next year.

Find out more: latrobe.edu.au/int-tuition

Other course costs

You may also need to pay towards other course costs, such as field trips or buying equipment. If a course requires you to pay additional costs, it will be outlined in the ‘Fees and scholarships’ section on our course pages: latrobe.edu.au/int-courses

Non-course costs

Living costs

Thinking about life in Australia? Now’s a good time to consider living costs. While your exact costs will vary depending on your budget and lifestyle, we’ve prepared an indicative guide to costs of living in Australia: latrobe.edu.au/int-living-costs

International Course Guide 2021

Postgraduate courses | 29
When you research at La Trobe, you’re choosing to be at the centre of a globally renowned research community that’s addressing the biggest challenges of our time.

Our degrees
We offer PhD, Professional Doctorate and Masters by Research programs depending on your goals and your educational and professional background. Which degree is right for you? Find out here: latrobe.edu.au/int-research-degrees

There’s more than one way to start a graduate research degree at La Trobe. You can consider one of our graduate degree pathways where you may be able to transfer to a Masters by Research from an Honours degree or Masters by Coursework, subject to requirements.

Research focus areas
We challenge you to help make the world a better place. At La Trobe, we target five Research Focus Areas (RFAs):

- building healthy communities
- securing food, water and the environment
- sport, exercise and rehabilitation
- transforming human societies
- understanding disease

These focus areas build on our strengths and address some of the most pressing questions affecting our future. Learn more here: latrobe.edu.au/int-rfas

How we’ll help you

Research infrastructure
As a graduate research candidate, you’ll be able to access purpose-built and custom-designed research facilities. From physical facilities like the La Trobe Institute for Molecular Science to our research platforms that maximise our strengths, we’ve invested in infrastructure to help your research make an impact.

Scholarships
We know what it’s like when you’re focused on your research: you don’t want anything to distract you. Our supportive scholarships for international students can help you cover tuition fees, manage your living expenses and more. Learn more here: latrobe.edu.au/int-research-scholarships

Research support
Prepare for the next step in your career with our Research Education and Development (RED) support program. We help La Trobe graduate researchers and early-career researchers develop:

- quality research practices
- strategies to achieve publication and source funding
- insight into career paths and industry sectors
- excellent research communication skills

Find out more: latrobe.edu.au/int-red

Industry and community engagement
We know that graduates don’t always remain in academia. That’s why we’ll support you to develop your skills and build contacts outside the university sector. The people you meet at La Trobe will help you build a rewarding career, no matter where life takes you.

If you want to grow your networks while you research, try an internship or mentoring program. Another way is our La Trobe PhD with an industry focus, which embeds you in an organisation where you’ll use your research to solve problems and build your professional networks.

You’ll learn from Australian industry leaders. You’ll build a track record of delivering results. And when you’re finished, you’ll be amazed at the opportunities that come your way.

There’s more information here: latrobe.edu.au/int-industry-community

7. Prepare for study at La Trobe
   Our International Student Services team will help you prepare for study, and when it’s time to join us on campus, they’ll help you get ready for life in Australia. Here’s how: latrobe.edu.au/int-prepare

La Trobe University acknowledges that our campuses are located on the lands of many Traditional Custodians in Victoria and New South Wales. We recognise their ongoing connection to the land and value their unique contribution to the University and wider Australian society.

La Trobe University is committed to providing opportunities for Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander people, both as individuals and communities, through teaching and learning, research and community partnerships across all our campuses.

The wedge-tailed eagle (Aquila audax) is one of the world’s largest, and the Wurundjeri people – Traditional Owners of the land where our Melbourne campuses are located – know the wedge-tailed eagle as Bunjil, the creator spirit of the Kulin Nations.

There is a special synergy between Bunjil and the La Trobe University logo of an eagle. The symbolism and significance for both La Trobe and for Aboriginal people challenges us all to gamagoen yarrbat – to soar.
